CYBERKNIFE - The Next Generation

Artificial Intelligence & Robotic Precision

Complementing the existing NCHC radiation oncology and medical oncology practices, CyberKnife Centers of San Diego completes a comprehensive outpatient Cancer Center presence within this unique and diverse medical campus. The CyberKnife radiosurgical system represents a generational leap in radiation targeting precision and treatment power, enabling the ablation of unresectable or recurrent tumors throughout the body, while minimizing collateral injury to surrounding tissues. This noninvasive radiosurgery system uses continuously updated X-ray image-guidance, computer linked to hundreds of robotically-controlled sub-millimeter accurate radiation pencil beams, creating a three-dimensional radiation ablation volume around a tumor with extremely sharp margins.

“This device will rewrite and define the practice of radiosurgery throughout the body – Its capability is unparalleled.”

Donald B. Fuller, M.D.
